COMFORT KEEPERS®

Bringing Care Services Home

When a loved one is living out their last days at home, it can be an especially difficult and emotional time.

Comfort Keepers® is here to help. We provide families with the help they need to make the most of their days together, while supporting them through one of the most challenging moments in life.

At Comfort Keepers, our compassionate and caring services offer a level of sensitivity, care, and support during especially emotional situations. Our specially-trained Comfort Keepers will provide compassion, moral support, and help around the home.

Comfort Keepers provides more than just in-home care. We provide clients with a level of care that helps preserve their dignity and provide a quality of life that can only be achieved at home. We are also there to provide support for family and friends coping with the emotional challenges and additional time burden inevitably associated with this kind of sensitive situation.

Our goal is to maximize your time with your loved one by adapting to what you need – however you need it – and lighten the burden during, and even after, this time has passed.

Compassion. Care. Comfort Keepers.

RELIABLE SUPPORT WITH A CARING TOUCH

There are many dimensions of support a family requires when caring for and coping with the emotions associated with a loved one living out their last days at home.

Whether emotional, or those practical household duties that can't be put aside, Comfort Keepers provides the help families need – whether full-time or on a periodic basis. Our services complement the care provided by hospice or medical care professionals, and often includes:

- Emotional Support: companionship, meaningful activities, conversation or moral support for both clients and family members
- Personal Care: bathing, eating, dressing, toileting
- Household Needs: cooking, light housekeeping, laundry, grocery shopping, errands

SUPPORTING FAMILIES EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

For almost a decade, Comfort Keepers has built its reputation on providing responsive quality care and sensitive support to families. Our specially-chosen Comfort Keepers develop close relationships with our clients to ensure all of their care needs are met.

In-home care, especially in hospice or other challenging care situations, requires flexibility in the services provided. We strive to help family members maximize their time with a loved one and ease the daily burden of extended care so they can attend to matters in their own lives. Whether in support of family priorities, or the care being provided by hospice or medical providers, Comfort Keepers tailors our support program to respond to the requirements of a family or situation. We continuously communicate with family members, clients or other care providers, adapting care and services to those changing needs.

OUR CARING CONTINUES DURING AND AFTER DIFFICULT TIMES

Should a family need support after a loved one passes on, our care continues in helping families deal with the grief and many tasks that will face them. From consolidation and organization of personal items, to moving belongings, or just being there for the family to talk with, we are there to help lighten the burdens a family may feel. And because Comfort Keepers is flexible, we will adapt our services to meet individual needs.
